

AED Courses

AED Training Automated External Defibrillators are now commonplace in most schools, health clubs, airports and malls, and are available for individual purchase through any pharmacy. Their use is not complicated but does require familiarity with the device, and is used along with CPR to rescue victims of sudden cardiac arrest. AED training is included as part of all of our CPR courses, and if your facility has purchased its own equipment, we will give an orientation to the AED(s) for course participants. If students already certified in CPR wish to be trained in the use of an AED we can arrange a presentation at your site. Please contact us for details.
